"SO THEY SAID"

FORTY YEARS ago this district was for buffalos and Indians.
THIRTY YEARS ago beef cattle were a possibility.
TWENTY YEARS ago the milk cow was still a doubtful venture.
TEN YEARS ago wheat was a failure.
FIVE YEARS ago corn would never ripen.
NOW they talk of watermelons.
SOON it will be bananas.

The Rosebud Flour Mills have worked steadily for the wheat proposition and the testimonies favorable to the products of the wheat will soon appear.

Bread made from our product is the best and cheapest food.

The next meeting of the Didsbury Community Board of Trade will be held in the schoolhouse on Friday evening next at 8 o'clock. Mr. W. F. Sick Honored

How would you like to have a birthday party given to you by the ladies when you received a birthday cake with seventy-six candles, pipes tobacco, socks, ties, jams and a host of other good things to eat and wear. This is what happened to Const. W. F. Sick on Friday night last when St. Hilde's Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star gave him a splendid birthday party in the local Masonic Lodge rooms. There was a very large attendance of members present to do honor to Mr. Sick and to show their appreciation of his services. Games and music were the order of the evening after which a fine spread was laid out on the tables of which, of course, the big birthday cake was the crowning glory. Speeches were given by several, congratulating Mr. Sick on reaching his 57th birthday and wishing him many "Happy Returns." He tried to reply but was greatly overcome at the splendid reception given him and the many presents he received. The gathering dispersed at a late hour after singing "Auld Lang Syne" and again wishing Mr. Sick "Many Happy Returns of the Day."

Didsbury Wheat Makes Good Flour

Didsbury, Alta., April 6, 1924.

Mr. M. Weber, Didsbury, Alta.,

Dear Sir,—In view of the fact that it was with some trepidation that I exchanged wheat for Rosebud Mills flour last fall, I feel that it is up to me to testify to the fact that it has proved to be the equal of any flour that we have had, regardless of price or brand, and convinces me that wheat raised in the Didsbury district is second to none and should not be discriminated against as it has been in the past, in the matter of grading.

Respectfully yours, J. L. Chandler.

The Demand For Economy

A Dominion-wide demand for economy is being made. It is urged with vigor and even enthusiasm. To enforce the demand, Economy Clubs have been organized in various sections of the country, and included in their membership are many of the most influential and representative men.

These organizations are absolutely non-political in a partisan sense. Nor, judging by newspaper reports of the proceedings of a number of them, are they composed of merely destructive critics aiming to bring about a reduction in taxation from any selfish motives of their own. On the contrary, with active committees appointed to inquire into matters, these organizations are seeking to devise constructive policies.

The citizenship of Canada is intelligent and patriotic. Apart from the fact that their own welfare is bound up in that of the country, Canadian men and women are proud of their Dominion and are anxious that it should develop and prosper. Anything, therefore, tending to bring disaster to Canada is a matter of deep concern.

It is now fairly generally recognized that Canadians developed habits of extravagance in the years just preceding the war, and the intense activity in all departments of production necessitated by war, and the rapid rise in prices for everything, encouraged extravagance. In many ways money came easily, and it was lavishly spent without taking much thought for the future and the inevitable accounting.

Governments are but the reflection of the people. This is true whether the governing body be the Federal Parliament, a Provincial Legislature, or a Municipal Council. They followed the example of the people who make and unmake Governments. During the war huge sums of money were required, and Government was given a free hand in the raising of it, whether by way of loans or taxation. Nobody complained and willingly accepted the imposition of taxes. Equally, Governments were given carte blanche in the spending of the money so raised. Work was plentiful, wages high, and prices for all products high. The payment of taxes then was not seriously felt.

After the war, however, it was a different story. Hundreds of thousands of men were released from military service for whom employment had to be found; millions of dollars annually had to be paid in pensions; thousands of sick and wounded men had to receive hospitalization; world markets were demoralized, and the currency of many nations practically worthless. Instead of more employment, there was less. Prices everywhere began to fall. The individual citizen had to retrench, and the payment of taxes began to pinch and become a real hardship.

But a war debt of over a billion and a half dollars had to be carried. Returned men had to be provided for. Departments and services created could not be done away immediately. Furthermore, people had become used to services which they were averse to losing or having curtailed; and, with unemployment increasing, there was tremendous pressure not to add to it by abolishing departments and services. On the other hand, there were demands that Governments should provide more work, and should use public funds to assist those who could not get work.

Citizens generally have now come to realize that the country cannot pull itself up by its boot straps; that not only must there be retrenchment and economy by the individual, but by the State as well. In a word, that what the Finance Commissioner of Toronto calls "the financial madness over the whole land" must end. And this retrenchment and economy must be enforced all along the line, from the Federal Government down through the Provinces and municipalities to school boards and all public bodies, business institutions and individuals.

A word or two of warning may, however, not be out of place in this connection. There is both true and false economy, and there is danger that in this general demand for economy, succeeding a wave of large expenditures and even extravagance, something may be forced which would be unwise and false economy, and for which the people of Canada would pay dearly in the long run.

Care must be exercised not to cripple or destroy what has already been built up and which would later have to be restored at great expense. Nothing must be done to damage or permanently impair the national institutions and services. For example, we cannot safely economize at the expense of the proper education of our children or in safeguarding the health of the people.

Newspaper despatches indicate that there will be wholesale reductions in the Federal estimates of expenditure to be presented to Parliament, and to many Provincial Legislatures. This means that contemplated public works of many kinds will not be proceeded with, that departmental staffs will be reduced, that services certain communities have asked for will not be provided. People must be prepared to accept the situation, and not begin at once to complain and make the life of their elected representatives miserable by insisting that while there must be general economy, it must not be at the expense of their own particular interest or community. With retrenchment and economy the people must be prepared to cheerfully accept the alternatives.

Sleeplessness

Sleeplessness, like insanity, is greatly on the increase. Modern life, with its hurry and worry and noise, brings an enormous strain on the brain and nerves.

The temptation to depend on sleeping powders or tablets must be fought off if you would avoid catastrophe. Means of reconstructing the starved nerve cells must be sought. Since the digestive system fails to supply nourishment to the blood and nerves it is necessary to employ such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to instil new strength and energy into the tired nerves. This is Nature's way of affording lasting relief.

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been increased to 60c. the box now contains 60 pills instead of 50 as formerly.

Likewise Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are 85c. a box of 85 pills, instead of 25c. for 25 pills.

Liquid Light

Light That Will Burn For Seven Years Or More

A light that never goes out is within the realm of possibility. There is nothing to pay, except the original cost of buying, say, half a pint of liquid light. You pour the liquid light into a bulb, and the resultant light is said to be superior to electric or any other known light, except Nature's own brand of daylight. This light, being, in fact, radio-active, will remain good for seven years or more, when the bulb may require re-filling. It is claimed also that this liquid will eventually make coal and oil power a thing of the past. If that is the case the real abolition of smoke seems to be in sight, for although electric power is smokeless, there will be smoke as long as fuel is necessary for its generation.

WINTER WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Our Canadian winters are exceedingly hard on the health of little ones. The weather is often so severe that the mother cannot take the little one out for an airing. The consequence is that baby is confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms; takes cold and becomes cross and peevish. Baby's Own Tablets should be given to keep the little one healthy. They are a mild laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels and thus prevent colds. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Building a House

When Socrates was building himself a house at Athens, being asked by one that observed the littleness of the design why a man so eminent would not have an abode more suitable to his dignity, he replied that he should think himself sufficiently accommodated if he could see that narrow habitation filled with real friends.—Samuel Johnson.

72 Years Old, But Actively On Job

Railroad Man Attributes Good Health and Strength To TANLAC.

Seventy-two years of age, but still in possession of the priceless boon of good health and actively on the job with the Central Vermont Railroad, where he has worked for 40 years, is the remarkable record of H. H. Moore, 24 Messenger St., Albans, Vt., who attributes his present health and strength to the use of TANLAC.

"I have never in my life seen the equal to TANLAC," said Mr. Moore recently. "After spending a lot of money on things that proved worthless for stomach trouble of the most obstinate kind, TANLAC made me feel like an entirely different man. For nearly two years I had been gradually getting worse, and my strength and vitality had got so low it was hard for me to attend to my duties. Indigestion, constipation and nervousness made life miserable before I found TANLAC, but now my health is normal and I feel happy as I work. I shall always be grateful to TANLAC. Senate Reform

Hinted that Action Along this Line is Being Considered by Government

It is hinted in ministerial circles at Ottawa that a measure of Senate reform is being considered by the government. The relation between the two houses in recent sessions have not been the most amicable and a number of measures have been thrown out.

Consideration, it is known, is being given to the advisability of asking the British Parliament for such amendment to B.N.A. Act, as will limit the tenure of senatorial appointments, and also provide along the line of the powers of the House of Lords in England, that bills passed by the Commons once or twice must automatically be adopted by the Senate.

It is not clear whether any such request for reform would require consent of the affected body, or whether a resolution, if adopted by the House would suffice. The whole matter is under advisement. In any event, the Senate may be relied upon to resist any alteration or reduction of its constitutional powers. It also claims that consent by the provinces who were party to the Confederation would be essential as well as the concurrence of both houses. All of the bills, defeated by the Senate last year, including the branch lines bill and amendments to the industrial disputes act, will be re-introduced.

Battle Against Church Union

Thinks Church Union Fight Will Be Taken to the Privy Council

Rev. James Mackay, head of the Presbyterian Church Association of London, predicted that the battle against church union will eventually be taken to the foot of the throne.

"I believe," he said, "that the application for an injunction now before the Supreme Court of the Dominion will be decided, in any event, with permission to appeal. No one judge, I think, would care to accept the entire responsibility of an arbitrary decision."

"I am convinced that the fight for and against church union will eventually be taken to the Privy Council."

Bread of Asthma makes countless thousands miserable. Night after night the attacks return and even when brief respite is given the mind is still in torment from continual anticipation. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy changes all this. Relief comes, and at once, while future attacks are warded off, leaving the afflicted one in a state of peace and happiness he once believed he could never enjoy. Inexpensive and sold almost everywhere.

Increase In Automobiles

Registration of Cars in Western Provinces Show Considerable Increase

There has been a very considerable increase in the number of automobiles registered in western provinces in 1923, as compared with 1922. In British Columbia 5,000 more automobiles were licensed in 1923 than in 1922. In Alberta registrations increased 1,250; Saskatchewan comes forward with an increase of 2,500 motor cars. Manitoba will show a small increase in 1923, against an increase of 1,775 in 1922 over 1921.

FRANCO-BRITISH AGREEMENT NOW A POSSIBILITY

Paris.—The French and British viewpoints on the question of an inter-allied control of German military armaments are so closely in accord that it is felt in official circles here that one of the main causes of the strain that has existed in the entente since 1922 will be removed within a few weeks, perhaps days. This was brought out at a meeting of the Council of Ambassadors, which examined Premier MacDonald's note on the subject and said that should the inter-allied military commission at Versailles, of which Marshal Foch is president, find that the measures proposed by the British Premier are sufficient to safeguard the security of France in accordance with the treaty, the French will rally to Mr. MacDonald's suggestions.

The British proposal that the present inter-allied military control commission shall be withdrawn and replaced by a committee of guarantees was agreed to by France in 1922, but with the provision that certain essential conditions then elaborated should be fulfilled by Germany. The main condition which the French Government is now placing upon the removal of the control commission has been practically at a standstill since the closing months of 1922.

Influx of Farmers From United States

Montreal.—"It is highly probable that there will be a considerable influx of farmers from parts of the western states of the United States to Canada," according to a statement here by M. E. Thornton, superintendent of colonization of the Canadian Pacific Railway, with headquarters at Winnipeg. The superintendent said conditions were really very bad in certain sections of North Dakota, following one season of drought and another of rust. "Many of them will cross the border into Canada," he said, "and take up lands in the western provinces."

Saskatchewan Red Cross

Regina, Sask.—Reports dealing with the entire field of activity of the Saskatchewan branch of the Red Cross were given at the ninth annual meeting of the society here.

W. F. Kerr, honorary secretary and commissioner, stated that from 150 local branches reported last year the organization had grown to 264 branches this year. A sum in excess of $10,000 had been expended during the year in combatting tuberculosis. The financial report showed that over $145,000 had been administered during the year.

Winnipeg Pioneer Passes

Death of Thomas W. Taylor, Ex-M.P. and Prominent Citizen

Winnipeg.—Thomas W. Taylor, mayor of Winnipeg in 1893 and 1894, died at his home here aged 72. He was a native of England and came to Winnipeg from Middlesex County, Ontario, in 1877. He sat in Manitoba Legislature for three years as a Conservative and, in addition, rendered useful public service as an alderman of Winnipeg for several years and as first chairman of the Winnipeg Parks Board, which was established largely through his efforts.

British Peers Keep Surname

London.—All three of the new Labor peers, Sir Sydney Olivier, secretary of state for India, Brig. Gen. Christopher Thompson, secretary of state for air, and Sydney Arnold, colonial under-secretary, retain their surnames in their titles. They thus follow the practice which seems to be popular among the peers created in recent years.

Large Loan to Russia

London.—The government is considering a scheme to advance large credits and issue a loan to Russia for reconstruction works there, according to the newspapers. An indispensable condition is, they add, that all the materials must be bought in Great Britain to help relieve the unemployment there.

Settlers for West Arrive

Winnipeg.—Two trainloads of immigrants, the majority of them from the British Isles, arrived in Winnipeg recently. There were 334 destined for the prairie provinces and 132 for British Columbia. Most of the newcomers appeared to be in comfortable circumstances.

Carrying Dangerous Weapons

Calgary.—Canadian customs officials were criticized by Magistrate Sanders in police court here for allowing immigrants to enter Canada "armed to the teeth." The point arose when Auró Wilhelm Laine, Finlander, was remanded on a charge of carrying dangerous weapons.

Discuss Mortgage Situation

Alberta Government May Improve Legislation Affecting Mortgage Investments

Edmonton.—The appointment of a standing committee of the House to investigate the mortgage situation in the province and the effect of legislation now in force relating to mortgage securities, was asked in the Legislature by Hon. C. R. Mitchell, Liberal member for Bow Valley, former provincial treasurer. Debate on this resolution was featured by a statement from Premier Greenfield that there was a "great deal of propaganda" in connection with the protests against Alberta's mortgage legislation and the government would go no further than agree to statute law amendments this session, which would improve legislation affecting mortgage investments.

She Could Not Do Her Housework

Mrs. E. Ouellet Tells of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Sends a message of cheer to the thousands of Canadian women who carry a load of pain and weariness through their daily work.

St. Andre de Kamouraska, P.Q.—(Special).—"I have suffered terribly for several years from bad kidneys and indigestion. I was so weak that I was not able to do my housework. After taking some Dodd's Kidney Pills I felt better and the pains in my kidneys have disappeared. I recommend them to all weak women."

Mrs. E. Ouellet, who lives here, makes the above statement. She feels that she owes it to other sufferers to tell them how she found relief.

Of the many persons paying their tribute of praise to Dodd's Kidney Pills, it is noticeable that the great majority are women. The reason given for this is that the great majority of women's ills come from the kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. Healing and strengthening them, they enable the kidneys to strain all the impurities out of the blood.

Home Bank Losses

Toronto.—G. T. Clarkson, liquidator of the Home Bank, when examined by W. T. Lee, K.C., counsel for Home Bank depositors, upon his affidavit as to the losses of the bank, declared at the close of the hearing that the losses would total $7,000,000. Later he modified this statement and declared that they would reach $6,250,000 anyway.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Canada Accords Good Treatment to Immigrants

London.—"I cannot speak too highly of the work of the Ministry of Immigration at Ottawa in connection with the reception of women immigrants," declared Miss Gladys Pott, of the Overseas Settlement Committee. Miss Pott stated that women officers make enquiries concerning the bona fides of any would-be employer of immigrant girls or young women and keep in touch with them. A large number of voluntary organizations co-operate with the Canadian Government in receiving and welcoming immigrants and arranging for their future care. The Red Cross Society especially is giving attention to the women and children who are fresh arrivals in the Dominion.

Saskatchewan Legislature

Progress Reported on a Number of Government Measures

Regina.—In the Legislative Assembly good progress was made in committee of the whole on a number of government measures, two amending bills dealing with the Masters and Servants Act and the Creditors Relief Act, 1923, an act to provide for the Maintenance of Blind and Deaf Children being given a third reading and passed. Amendments to the Homesteads Act were read a third time and the bills were reported to the House for the third reading, while progress was reported on the act to amend the Saskatchewan Insurance Act.

Premier Dunning gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill to provide for the release of certain monies for the construction of Canadian National branch lines.

Harris Turner, leader of the Opposition, raised the question of the provision of more suitable accommodation for legislative committee with a view to finding out if better arrangements could be made.

India's Home Rule Aspirations

Labor Government of Britain Is in Sympathy With Aims

London.—Lord Sydney Olivier, secretary for India, made his eagerly awaited speech on the Indian situation in the House of Lords, declaring that affairs in India caused the government great anxiety. He appealed to the Indians to have patience, and said the Labor Government of Britain sympathized with the Home Rule party's aims in India, but it was impossible for the Indian people to leap at once into the saddle of government.

SAYS NO NEED FOR PESSIMISM NOW IN CANADA

Moose Jaw.—"Immigration is probably one of the most important topics affecting the west today, and a matter that will be one of the foremost questions before parliament this session. Beyond the fact of stressing its importance in our resolution to the government, we think that we can depend upon the proper authorities to people the peopleless land we have to offer. In fact, I think it is Sir Henry Thornton who has made the statement that when we get proper population we will have no railway problem."

This was one of the most illuminating remarks contained in the address of J. A. Reynolds, Prince Albert, president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Saskatchewan, at their convention here.

Dealing with the question of farming, Mr. Reynolds told the meeting that professor Swanson of Saskatoon had recently made the statement that 500 millions of dollars had been lost by the western farmers in their crop output of 1920 and 1922. "I do not know where he obtained his figures," declared the speaker, "but I am rather inclined to question them." However, continued Mr. Reynolds, it was realized that in spite of the good crop conditions of the past year, the position of the farmer today, while showing improvement, was by no means an attractive one. A significant feature, however, was that all districts in Canada where dairying is paramount, show decided improvement.

Speaking for the future of Canada, Mr. Reynolds concluded his remarks by stating that there was no need for pessimism in the Dominion at the present day. Canada had probably as bright a future as any country in the world. Reports of financial institutions and banking bodies showed steady uphill improvement.

As C. W. Rowley, of Winnipeg, a friend of the speaker's, had once remarked: "It has not been a case of hard times coming, but of soft times going," and a man that was a bullhead for luck was generally found to be a bullhead for work. One found that on looking over farmers' statements that the land generally took care of those who took care of it, and business in life was very much like bank accounts, you could not take out more than you put in.

Manitoba Wheat Pool Bill

Winnipeg.—Consideration of the wheat pool bill was completed by the private bills committee of the legislature. One clause was deleted because it was regarded as a duplication. The cost of handling the wheat in Alberta wheat pool was one-half a cent a bushel, declared Clifford Barclay, chairman, in answering a question.

Religion of Liberal Christian

Noted Divine Suggests Sweeping Away "Those Too Silly and Misleading Names, Fundamentalists and Modernists."
Dr. HENRY VAN DYKE

"Why not sweep away those two silly and misleading names, Fundamentalists and Modernists?" asks Dr. Henry Van Dyke in an article in the Outlook, entitled, "The Religion of a Liberal Christian." These names he argues, only becloud the issue and confuse the mind of plain folks. Dr. van Dyke, author of that classic "The Other Wise Man," is himself neither a Modernist nor a Fundamentalist, because he does not believe in either title. He calls himself a Liberalist who believes in the virgin birth of Jesus Christ, but who on the other hand, is as firmly convinced that there are portions of Holy Writ that must not be taken literally. In his article he tells us the principles of the Liberalist faith and defines arguments in both the Modernist and Fundamentalist doctrines that are not acceptable to him "as a plain man." The Liberals interpret the Scriptures according to the spirit and not according to the letter.

We Liberals have no wish to exclude the Literalists from the church. But the Literalists are more warlike. They say the Liberals must go out. Among the Presbyterians a few men plainly say the church must be divided and the Liberalist left in possession of the endowment. Now this proposition (which has a certain commercial flavor) is definitely schismatic—that is to say it seeks to split the church.

But there is another thing that must strike the plain man who like to take words in their ordinary sense. The so called "five points of essential doctrine" which are put forth by the Literalists as tests of Christian faith are not consistent with one another.

Take an example. The first point is the absolute freedom of the Scriptures from error of any kind. The second point is the virgin birth of Jesus Christ, as told in the Gospel according to Matthew and Luke. Now suppose a plain man accepts this story as it is told, and believes as I do, in the virgin birth. Then he reads on and finds (Luke 4: 33) that Joseph and Mary are distinctly called "the father and mother" of Jesus. Then he turns back and finds (Matthew 1: 16) that the descent of Jesus from David and Abraham is definitely traced through Joseph. Now what is the plain man, taking language in its obvious sense, to do? Either he must give up the doctrine of the virgin birth, or he must hedge and qualify his statement that the Holy Scriptures are absolutely free from error, or he must say, as the Liberals do: "Such material discrepancies mean nothing to us. We interpret Scripture, not by the letter, but by the spirit. Anyway, we believe that Jesus Christ is our God and Saviour."

It would be easy to go on showing, in the same way, that the five points of the Literalists are neither self-consistent, nor adequate as statements of the truth taught in the Bible, nor binding as "essential doctrines." But to what purpose?

It would only make confusion worse confounded.

The second unhappy feature of the Fundamentalists' strife is its tendency to delay and obstruct the practical work of the Church. This conflict diverts attention and effort from Christian service to dogmatic definitions. Christ said, "By their fruits shall ye know them." St. James said that faith was proved by works. Doing good in obedience to Christ is the ultimate test of orthodoxy.

The third unhappy feature of this Literalists' attack upon the Liberals is the distraction and anxiety which it causes in the mind of very simple Christian folks. They are my folks. With all who can sing "Jesus, lover of my soul" from the heart, and then rise up to do good in the world, I am in fellowship. Let us not be dismayed. Christ will save us and give us the victory.

But three things seem to me to belong to the Everyman Gospel, and somehow or other the Christian preacher, on the soap-box or in the pulpit, ought to try to get them over to his brother man, rich or poor, learned or simple.

First, God made us all. We are not the children of chance, the offspring of senseless matter and blind force. The Great Spirit is the fram-er of our bodies and the Father of our spirits. Lift up your hearts. Our bodies come from dust but our souls from God. Let us live bravely, not as mere beasts, but as men and women, children of God.

Second, there is something wrong with all of us, something which makes it easier to go down than to go up, and to indulge our passions rather than to follow our conscience. The bible tells us and our hearts know what that evil thing is. It is sin, selfishness, which separates us from our Father in heaven and from our brother men on earth, and makes all the trouble in the world. We must escape from it, get rid of its guilt and its power, if we want peace and a better life.

Third, there is only one person who can deliver us, Jesus Christ, the Son of God. He came from heaven, and lived a sinless life as the Son of man, and died upon the cross to save the world from sin. He rose from the dead to bring immortality to light. He is one with the Father. God is like Christ. He is love, forgiveness, mercy, truth. Every one who wants to may come to his Saviour. If you believe in him, he will give you a new life. If you trust him, he will give you the peace that is everlasting. If you honestly try to obey him in being good and doing good, that will be the test and proof of your true faith. There is no other. Try this. You don't need to wallow a volume of theological definitions. Simply come to Jesus, trust him fully, follow him honestly, and you shall be saved. That is gospel truth.—MacLean's Magazine.

The Passing of Coal and Bunk

AND so the World goes on. Old, as far as human knowledge goes, yet ever changing, ever new. There are still some among us, grey haired men they are, who remember the clipper ships which years ago forced the galleon from the sea, and the great four-masted barques that are now seen only in island trade on southern seas, but these men are the privileged few. Except for a few schooners which ply the fishing banks, the sailing vessels have gone the way of all things, and in their place we see the steam driven vessels, gigantic, palatial, and so different in almost all their aspects from the wind propelled vessels as to almost belie their origin. There came coal. Coal revolutionized the shipping industry. As the marine engine was improved upon and developed, this commodity became more and more in demand until it became a necessity. Larger ships were designed and operated than ever before; they became more spacious, commodious and faster than ever before. Cabins were improved upon, the sleeping bunks could be so arranged as to ensure privacy for the occupant; the state room was evolved.

And so the shipping world goes on. Oil is now coming into its own. The navies of the world are converting their older war ships into oil burning vessels and designing many of the additions to fleets for the use of oil; and for some years past the steamship companies of all nations have been turning their attention to oil as well as to coal supplies and resources.

The Canadian Pacific Steamship Company early appreciated the advantages offered by oil, and the latest conversion to be announced by the Company is that of the Empress of France. This great liner has for some time held the record for the fastest voyage between the St. Lawrence and Great Britain, and it is anticipated that the time made on the record trip will be beaten by the Empress after her reconditioning.

Another important change is the replacement of all sleeping bunks on the ship by regular bedsteads and mattresses and the conversion of the cabins into rooms similar to those one finds in up-to-date hotels. Rooms which were formerly four-berth cabins are now equipped with two brass bedsteads, while cabins that had two berths are now rooms with a single bed. Many of the rooms that are equipped with the bedsteads have also an ingeniously arranged berth which folds into concealment on the wall, thus affording accommodation for an extra member of the family party when so desired. This ship, the Empress of France, has been chosen to cruise around-the-world in 1925 under the Canadian Pacific management. It will sail eastward from New York on January 27th and during its five months itinerary will be the only object in many an ancient port to exemplify the last word in modernity.

Here and There

The annual tobacco yield in the United States has a value of over $250,000,000.

A regular air service between Sweden and England has been decided upon and will be established shortly. The terminals will be Malmo and London with intermediate landings in Hamburg. Only six hours will be required for the flight.

The Minister of Lands has announced that a Dutch organization has offered to purchase 200,000 acres of land in the Stuart Lake district, British Columbia, for the purpose of colonization by Dutch agriculturists.

The Canadian Pacific is now perfecting plans to aid in the development of the mining industry of Ontario, by placing car ferries on Lake Temiskaming. These ferries will ply between South Lorrain and Ville Marie, and between New Liskeard, Haliburton and other Ontario points, and the Quebec port.

Major-General MacBrien, chief of staff of the Department of National Defence, Ottawa, addressing the members of the Canadian Club at London recently, announced that it is probable that the Canadian Permanent Force of Militia will be established by Order-in-Council on April 1.

Forty-nine automobile cars of Ford machines recently left Windsor, Ont., for Vancouver, B.C., via Canadian Pacific. This was an unusually heavy movement of cars to one city, and another remarkable feature was that all of the automobiles, some three hundred, were for local consumption.

Whereupon I felt much but said nothing, except to renew my demand that Maudie should spend her holidays with us again.

"You are going to stay at Herrington's Hope, then?" she asked. "You have really decided that you will not come back to the city?"

"Really decided," I replied, burning my bridges recklessly. "Murray likes farming, and the life suits him physically and mentally. And of course I love it. The only thing that bothers me now is the lack of advantages for the children but, as Murray says, before they are old enough for that to matter we'll probably have a good school close to us, and they'll be all the better for their simple life in every other way. After all, this was more for my own benefit than Maudie's, 'most of our finest men and women have come out of a country school, and if the twins miss some good things the city could give them they will also miss some that are not so good.'"

"Yes," agreed Maudie, "and when the time comes for Nicolas to have a post-graduate course of city life you may send her to me—if," with the crooked smile that always means but

WANTS TO HELP OTHER WOMEN

Grateful for Health Restored
by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for backache and for weak and dreary feelings caused by my condition. Sometimes I felt so bad that I couldn't do my housework. My neighbor told me of your medicine and I read about it in the 'Toronto Telegram' and thought I would take it. I got very good results. It built me up and I have told several friends what it has done for me. You may use this testimonial as it may be of help to some one who has suffered as I have."—Mrs. J. LEE, 25 Harvie Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Mrs. Lee is willing to write to any girl or woman suffering from such troubles, and answer any questions they may like to ask.

Women suffering from female troubles causing backache, irregularities, pains, bearing-down feelings and weakness should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Not only is the worth of this splendid medicine shown by such cases as this, but for nearly fifty years letters like this have been received from thousands of women.

one thing, "you can trust me to send her back again."

It was half raining and half snowing when I reached Spruce Creek, altogether unpleasant as to weather but quite heavenly as to company, for I had scarcely stepped off the train before I was seized by three separate and distinct pairs of arms, while Waggles circled around the group, barking madly. And what I wiped off my face as we reached the shelter of the station was not all rain-drops.

"A nasty evening," said Mr. Torrance as I shook hands with him. "Going to stay in town for the night?" I looked at Murray and Murray looked at me.

"No," I said firmly. "I am going home as quickly as possible—I only wish I had an aeroplane."

It was dark when we reached Herrington's Hope, but the light from the kitchen lamp shed its beams across the path.

"There must be someone in the house," I said quietly, so as not to waken Nicolas, who had gone to sleep against my shoulder.

"Daddy left the lamp there when we went away in broad daylight, so it would look nice when you came home," explained Rupert. "And we took Waggles with us so that he couldn't knock it over."

The rain had ceased and the moon was making a brave effort to break through the clouds, but once again there was moisture on my lashes. I could not say what I felt, but Murray understood.

Once inside the house I had no time even for tears of joy. Jean had come over in the morning to tidy the house and do some cooking and I was made to sit still while supper was prepared. The children chattered incessantly as they worked, but Murray was quiet, and whenever I looked at him I found him watching me intently. I was not hungry, but I had a cup of tea and one of the biscuits that Nicolas had made "all by my own self," biscuits that showed the effects of much manipulation by earnest little hands. And then I put the twins to bed, staying for an extra long "visit" with each of them.

And afterwards, when the house was quiet, Murray and I had our talk. What was said matters little, even if it could be written here, but I was able to convince him that to stay by Herrington's Hope was no martyrdom to me, but a joy and a privilege. And then we sat and built air-castles until the fire burned itself out and the clock in the kitchen struck one.

It is now many weeks since I added anything to this record of my feelings and experiences. Spring is here once more, spring that always brings to me the desire to "clean up" literally and figuratively. My first impulse was to burn this book, but on second thought I determined to bring it down to date and then to put it away to be referred to for disciplinary purposes. Perhaps I shall give it to Nicolas some day, the time may come when she will be interested, perhaps helped, to learn that her staid, middle-aged mother was once young and foolish. Rupert, bless his truly masculine heart, would never understand much that I have written, but Nicolas would.

The winter that I so dreaded has passed quickly and happily—"and all is well." Outside the window as I write, our almost tame oriole sings from the highest tree-top he can find, while his sober little wife—much, I suspect, like the unmusical wives of other operative tenors—goes house hunting by her lones. The twins have just brought me the first deep purple wood violets, Nicolas remarking that if she were a flower she would "rather smell nice than look nice." And Murray, quite forgetting what last year did to us, has gone out to work on the new breaking, where, he declares, he is afraid to walk in case he should begin to grow. Hard times and disappointments may come to us again, but today the tide of life runs so high that our air-castles seems only a day's journey farther on.

The winter brought to us nothing worthy of remark, except that, with the help of a programme drawn up by Phyllis Caradale, I started the children on their three R's. Murray was at home more than during our first winter on the farm, for though he cleared another small field the prices for green cordwood were so low and freight rates so high that it would not have paid him to haul the wood to Spruce Creek for shipment to Winnipeg.

We kept up our Tuesday evenings as in the first winter and, with the elasticity to be expected of such people, our neighbors seldom allowed their anxiety regarding the future to interfere with their enjoyment of the present. If Bob Cameron and Murray and Mr. Macleod and Mr. Fenwick discussed the affairs of the Empire instead of music and books it was in a hopeful and constructive manner—and when Jack Severn was sometimes inclined to be "Red" we made allowances for him. Murray, "though I say it as shouldn't," was undoubtedly the moving spirit in all this, and though I tease him about his class in Civics, I am convinced that we shall yet see some of his theories put into practice in our rural communities.

We missed Mrs. Fenwick and Jim, but from Mrs. Fenwick there came such cheerful letters, and such bundles of magazines from her old lady, that we never lost touch with her. And Jim—I think I shall have to begin a new paragraph here, for to finish properly my recital of Jim's woes and their happy ending will require both time and space.

Jim came back from the West while I was in Winnipeg, spent the day between trains with his brother and then went off to a wood-camp near Jauphin, without so much as seeing Jean. How he spent the winter I can only guess from what followed, but Jean, after I had told her of my talk with Lilah, confided in me freely.

Lilah had done her work well, and Jean was convinced that Jim no longer cared for her, that he had avoided her because he was ashamed of himself, and that she had been, to use her own bitter phrase, "Merely one of a series."

Perhaps it was a breach of trust, but I could not bear to see Jean so unhappy, and so I told her all that Jim had ever said to me about her. But the wound was too deep for my healing.

"That was long ago," she would say, "if what he told you had been really true Lilah would not have been able to come between us. I have made a mistake, that is all. Mother was right, I suppose!"

I tried to make the girl see that certain allowances might be made for Jim—that he felt himself handicapped by his inability to offer her a home, and that on that account he had, through a mistaken idea of chivalry, put both himself and her in an awkward and painful position.

"Can't you see," I asked, "that he was always comparing what he had with what Mr. Macleod could offer? And that, feeling as he did, it was easy for him to let Lilah make trouble? He thought you didn't care, and, man-like, he used Lilah to cover the hurt."

I think perhaps it did Jean good to talk to me, but I do not flatter myself that I deserve any credit for the straightening out of the tangle. Jim did that for himself when he came home in February—in fact, the first notice I had of his return was when one Sunday afternoon he and Jean walked in and, after both had kissed me, to my great surprise, announced that they had come to stay for tea.

After tea, while we were washing the dishes, Jean very shyly told me that I had been right about Lilah and that Jim had explained everything, blaming his pride and his hot temper for all that had occurred. They would never misunderstand each other again, Jean said, and now that they were sure of each other they could afford to wait.

"And your mother?" I asked.

A shadow crossed Jean's face.

"Mother will feel differently after a while, I hope," she said. Then, as if she feared that I might misunderstand her, "she has been awfully good. Mrs. Atwin, she has never refused me anything, and she knows that I'd rather live in a sod shack with Jim than in a palace with anyone else."

So that is finished—should I not rather say that it is just begun. And though I feel sorry for Mrs. Mowbray I cannot help but rejoice with Jean. In her place I know I should have chosen as she did.

When I think that, had a kind Providence not watched over me, I might now have been the mistress of a six-roomed suite in a quietly exclusive apartment block—for I am sure it would have been a suite—I can understand Jean so well. As a check on vain imaginings I keep a mental picture of that suite. It contains mahogany furniture, green Wilton carpets, rose-bud Limoges china, glass-fronted bookcases, and, in the living-room window, a fern in a brass jardiniere on a mahogany and wicker pedestal. I have never yet been so desperate as to choose the pictures but I know that there are blue canaries on the tapestry paper that is above the imitation leather panelling in the dining-room, and that on the plate rail are all the wedding gifts that one has not the courage to destroy.

A SURGERY IN A TWO-INCH BOX

Wherever swift, clean, healing of wounds, sores or injuries is demanded, Zam-Buk is always the safest and best thing to use. This great herbal balm quickly moves pain and irritation. It ends any suppuration or swelling; extracts poison and disease, and grows new skin in a wonderful way.

KEEP IT ALWAYS HANDY.

To go back to some of the other people whose friendship has given them a place in this record, dear Granny Robertson died in January and Grand-dad a month later. The old cottage, so Maudie writes, is to be torn down early in the summer to make room for a business block—I am glad, I could not bear to picture anyone else in it.

And Maudie herself has, since I saw her last Fall, been married and widowed. Only a week after I left her she wrote a hurried note to say that the doctors had agreed to Leslie's being moved, and the next day they were married. It seemed, she wrote to me later, that the change to the old home had been a good one. Leslie was brighter and very happy, and his parents and brothers and sisters had accepted his wife as one of themselves. But the improvement was short-lived, between Christmas and New Year the end came. Maudie is back in Winnipeg, and while she always writes cheerfully I can read between the lines that her life is very empty. In June she comes to visit us.

And so I come to the end. An old Spanish proverb says that as one door closes another opens, and so it has been with me. I do not know what lies behind the next door, but there is no fear in my heart as I lay my hand on the latch.

The End.

Synthetic Gasoline

Discovery of a German Chemist May Reduce Cost of Commodity

The international war for oil promises to enter an entirely new phase through the discovery by a German chemist, whose name is withheld, of a process for producing synthetic gasoline at a considerably smaller cost than regular gasoline. The Austrian Government, according to reports from Vienna, already is preparing to produce synthetic gasoline on a large scale, utilizing state factories at Voelkysdorf. The artificial gasoline is said to be equal in every respect to the natural product in regard to chemical composition and utility. It is produced largely from by-products of oils, coke, etc., which were heretofore waste.—New York World.

To Get the Real Tea Flavor

Enamelled Ware Teapots Favored by Good Housekeepers

The Chinese have always told us (and they ought to know, for they were the original tea drinking people), that we make a great mistake in brewing our tea in metal teapots. Our silver teapots were only indications of barbaric ostentation in their eyes; the finest porcelain was their ideal.

Tea lovers will agree with the Chinese, but we know the sad fate which all too soon overtakes a china teapot; usually first its nose and then its cover is broken. There is, however, a compromise between metal and porcelain unknown to the oriental of tea discovery days, beloved by modern housewives—enamelled ware. No porcelain surface can be more delicate or more impervious and its metal foundation makes it survive the vicissitudes of ordinary family and kitchen use. One such teapot in white enamelled ware is still perfect after twenty years of service and still furnishes tea as delicate as if made in Mandarin porcelain.

Prisoners are being put on their honor in various prisons in England to a greater extent than formerly, and it is found that this confidence is not abused to any extent. The plan is to form "honor parties" of prisoners who are trusted to work without continuous supervision.

At 80 Years Of Age Was Troubled With Shortness Of Breath Palpitation Of The Heart And Fainting Spells

Mrs. M. O'Connor, Whitestone, Ont., writes:—"I have been troubled, most of my life, with shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and fainting spells. I was advised by a friend to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I did, and at once found relief, and I have never had a really bad spell since."

I am 80 years of age and always keep them in the house, and when I feel any symptoms of my old trouble coming on all I have to do is to take a few doses. With the help of your Pills I expect to see many years yet. I always recommend them to any one who is suffering from heart trouble."

Saskatchewan Dairying
That the work accomplished by the dairy commission of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture showed a decided advancement in several phases of the dairying industry during 1923, was the statement made recently by Dairy Commissioner P. E. Reid. The output of the creameries during 1923 showed an increase of 22.2 per cent. over that of 1922, while the butter production had increased by 1,965,865 pounds.

Many Inventions

Ship Rolling Made to Drive the Propellers and Furnish Motive Power

After Sir William Bull, M.P., had remarked at a dinner that he was always losing his collar stud, an inventor sent him a stud with an octagonal base which refuses to roll under the dressing table.

This invention is one of nearly 300 which have been patented by members of the Institute of Patentees during the last three months. They range from an improved drawing pin to epileptic gearing.

An Australian invention is a plant for the utilization of the rolling of ships at sea for motive power. This is achieved by an ingenious distribution of weights, which swing from side to side with the roll of the ship and are connected with the propellers. It is claimed that the device would cheapen the motive power of ships.

A Prime Dressing for Wounds.—In some factories and workshops carbolic acid is kept for use in cauterizing wounds and cuts sustained by the workmen. Far better to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It is just as quick in action and does not scar the skin or burn the flesh.

NERVES RESTORED HEADACHE GONE

A Grateful Letter From a Well Known Vancouver Nurse

"In the summer of 1922," says Mrs. Mary Hill, of 31st Avenue west, Vancouver, B.C., "I became very anxious about my young daughter's health. She was attending a commercial school, and between her close study and exceptionally hot weather she became very much run down. I noticed that she looked white and seemed constantly tired, was depressed over her studies, and irritable and peevish about the house. I got several tonics I had heard well spoken of, but they did not seem to help her. At this stage an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, telling of a similar case, was brought to my attention, and I decided to give this medicine a trial. You may judge of my surprise and delight when I noticed an improvement in her condition, almost before the first box was finished. She continued taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for some time, gaining in health and strength. Her headaches, backaches and depression disappeared, and she again looked well and happy. She has since, I am glad to say, kept perfectly well, and passed her examinations with credit."

"I must have worried more than I knew over my daughter's health, for though I have earned my living as a maternity nurse for the past 12 years, even the most trying cases did not seem to exhaust me until last fall, when I seemed to give out suddenly. I became so nervous that I had to decline work, and I suffered from headaches and a constant feeling of depression. I attributed my condition to the fact that I was entering a critical time of life. It was my daughter who suggested that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills might do me as much good as they had done her, and after a faithful use of them for a time this proved to be the case. My nerves regained their steadiness, and my general health improved so much that I felt able to undertake my nursing duties again. I have taken the pills occasionally since, and thanks to them have been able to stand the strain of my work splendidly and still feel as well as ever. I am very grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and am thankful to have found such a reliable medicine for use in my home, and I can conscientiously recommend it to any suffering woman or girl coming under my care or influence."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealers or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

More Immigrants Coming

Number of Immigrants Coming to Canada Has Increased Remarkably

An increase of 105 per cent. in immigration to Canada is reported during the ten months ended January, 1924, as compared with the corresponding ten-months ended January, 1923.

During the past ten-months, 129,022 immigrants of all nationalities have entered Canada. In the same period during 1922-23, only 62,849 persons entered the country as immigrants. Of the immigrants coming to this country during the past ten-months, 65,171 were British, 18,129 were Americans; and 45,722 were from other countries. August was the busiest month in the Immigration Department, the influx of nearly 15,000 British harvesters swelled the figures, while the total for the month was over 25,000.

A comparison of the two periods of ten months (from April to January) shows an increase of 120 per cent. in British immigrants, a decrease of 8 per cent. in the immigration from the United States, and an increase of 235 per cent. from other countries.

Canada's Lumber Cut

Interesting Statistics Show Value of Output for Past Two Years

Statistics on the lumber industry in Canada during 1922 have been recently completed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and show that a total of 3,138,598 thousand feet board measure of lumber, valued at $84,554,172, was reported. The number of mills reporting in 1922 was 2,922 as compared to 3,126 in 1921, a reduction of six and a half per cent., but the average production per mill increased from 918 thousand feet in 1921 to 1,074 in 1922. The total number of employees on salaries and wages was 31,892 as compared to 39,387 in 1921, an increase of five per cent. The total payroll was $27,621,691 as compared to $26,707,689 in 1921, an increase of three per cent.

One of the most effective vermifuges on the market is Miller's Worm Powders. They will not only clear the stomach and bowels of worms, but will prove a very serviceable medicine for children in regulating the infantile system and maintaining it in a healthy condition. There is nothing in their composition that will injure the most delicate stomach when directions are followed, and they can be given to children in the full assurance that they will utterly destroy all worms.

CHARACTER TELLS THE STORY!

People throughout this country are giving more thought to hygiene and to the purity of remedies on the market, but no one doubts the purity of Doctor Pierce's vegetable medicines, for they have been so favorably known for over fifty years that everyone knows they are just what they are claimed to be. These medicines are the result of long research by a well-known physician, R. V. Pierce, M. D., who compounded them from health-giving herbs and roots long used in sickness by the Indians. Dr. Pierce's reputation as a leading and honored citizen of Buffalo, is a sufficient guarantee for the purity of that splendid tonic and blood purifier, the Golden Medical Discovery, and the equally fine nerve tonic and system builder for women's ailments, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is made in Dr. Pierce's Laboratory, Bridgeburg, Ontario.

Funding the British Debt

Will Not Ask to Settle With United States in Sterling

The British Government does not intend to approach the United States Government with a view to an arrangement by which payment of the British debt would be made in pounds sterling instead of in dollars, William Graham, financial secretary of the treasury, announced in the British House of Commons in reply to a question.

When pressed as to whether some step might not be taken in that direction, because of the effect it would have on exchange and trade, and also on the cost of living, Mr. Graham said the United States would not entertain a request of that kind.

Furniture Injured by Weather

Uneven temperatures and lack of sufficient moisture in the air are playing havoc with the woodwork in the new Parliament Buildings at Ottawa. Much of the wood used in the building, it is said, was not properly seasoned, and hence will not stand the strain.

Hog Grading Policy

Considerable Improvement in Type and Quality Has Resulted

The operations of the federal hog grading policy, inaugurated a year ago by the joint efforts of the federal department of agriculture, the producers and the packing industry, was reviewed by the joint swine committee in conference at Ottawa.

The producers, the packing industry and the department, report considerable improvement in the type of hogs. It is reported that the official grading, the experiments and the investigations carried on by the department have borne satisfactory results. Improvement is also reported in the quality of Canadian bacon going forward to the British market. Livestock exchanges in Winnipeg and Toronto, in co-operation with the livestock branch of the department of agriculture, have carried on experiments in grading and grading equipment, and their report is being considered by the committee.

THERE IS A TIME FOR EVERYTHING

THE time to have your HARNESS REPAIRED and OILED is RIGHT NOW, not when you are ready to hitch up for work in the field.

I have everything in shape to fix you up for a good start. My repair shop is complete in every way with the best of machinery, materials and workmanship READY FOR YOUR SERVICE.

I make a specialty of oiling harness. Each and every harness is taken apart and thoroughly scrubbed with brush, soap and water to remove all sweat and dirt before being soaked in the oil tank. Every loop and part of the harness gets its share of the oil, a thing impossible to do by hand oiling.

My charges for this thorough work are very moderate:

Team harness $3.00 per set
Plough harness, without breeching, $2.50
Democrat harness $2.50
Buggy harness $1.50.

If harness is clean I can oil them from $1.00 up.

If you do your own repair work I can furnish you with HARNESS LEATHER, either cut stock or by the side; also HARNESS HARDWARE, thread, wax, etc.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Mr. J. T. Jones, the manager of the Opera House, realizing the keen disappointment that the people of Didsbury suffered through Hoot Gibson in "The Rambler Kid," a Universal special, not arriving in time for showing on Friday night as advertised, made a special trip to Calgary and arranged a return showing of this picture on Thursday and Saturday of this week.

In addition to the showing of this picture he will also show Herbert Rawlinson in "Nobody's Bride," a delightful comedy drama that will please both old and young.

It is not necessary to mention how well Hoot Gibson in the "Rambler Kid," was liked, as everybody who saw this picture last Saturday were unanimous in voicing their praises, and there is no doubt that Mr. Jones will be well patronized on the return engagement of this wonderful picture. Even though you may have seen it you will enjoy seeing it again.

Mr. Jones is to be congratulated upon his interest in this matter and also for his speedy action in getting this picture again at so early a date.
